

What Makes You Happy? Day 2

Today we are looking at the features of a list. A good list should have:

- A title to tell you what the list is about.
- A capital letter to start each new line.
- A new idea on each line.
- Only a few words on each line (not a full sentence.)

Today we are going to be focussing on forming capital letters correctly. On a lined piece of paper (or in your workbooks) see if you can form all the capital and lower case letters below! Don't forget to post your work on Seesaw!

Don't forget! All capital letters are ascenders (they touch the top and the bottom of the line!). Also, they should not have any joiners or be joined to any lower case letters!
