

Design Technology!

This week we want you to focus on junk modelling. This means you can find anything around your house (such as old cereal boxes, shoe boxes, milk cartons etc.) and we want you to build your own castle. You can be as creative as you like and can even paint it if you wish!

Have a think about how you might join the items together... Would it be using glue? Cellotape? When you have done this we would love to see it, email it to us on arhyear1@aldermanrichardhallam.leicester.sch.uk

Have a look below for some examples...
