

Hi everyone,

I know that our Amazing Australia topic has finished but you might like to explore further by visiting this website:

<https://www.australia.com/en-my/things-to-do/arts-and-culture/virtual-tours-of-australias-top-cultural-experiences.html>

Which will give you links to some interesting virtual tours of Australia's significant landmarks.

The Melbourne Museum offers a guided 'LOLtastic' tour (their words, not mine) with commentary and an interactive map:

<https://museums victoria.com.au/melbournemuseum/whats-on/the-listies/the-listies-totally-serious-100-fact-filled-guide-to-the-melbourne-museum/>

The National Gallery of Victoria will give you some ideas on different types of Australian artwork that you could try at home:

<https://www.ngv.vic.gov.au/learn/resources/great-art-ideas-for-primary-school-teachers/>

Good luck in your explorations!